Daniel Siegel is a sole practitioner in Allentown, Pennsylvania. After receiving his law degree from Pittsburgh School of Law, he became an Assistant Federal Public Defender in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania in 1987, and then joined the Office of the Federal Public Defender for the District of Delaware in 2007. He now writes the Victory Newsletter and in his spare time gives brief but uplifting talks about the cases featured in the Newsletter.